

Language learning made fun: The Quick-n-EZ Language® story.

Yogini Dahiwadkar Founder/CEO

Quick-n-EZ Language® began when Founder and CEO, Yogini Dahiwadkar, was working to teach her native language and culture to her two young daughters. She created the innovative teaching approach based on local language references to more effectively teach sounds and pronunciation of foreign letters based on words from the user's native tongue for maximum retention.

Founded in 2009, Quick-n-EZ Language® has already established a North American product presence that includes 14 states (from New York to California) and Canada. Quick-n-EZ Language® products, currently sold on the web (www.Quick-n-EZ.com), will soon be available through select bookstores, educational stores and retail shops. Designed for both at-home and in-school use (by pre schools, daycare centers and elementary schools), colorful and entertaining Quick-n-EZ Language® learning materials are also welcomed by doctors, lawyers, realtors, accountants and other professionals whose offices serve multicultural clientele.

Innovative Teaching Method for Maximum Effectiveness.

Concentrating on building a strong foundation of essential language skills that last a lifetime, Quick-n-EZ Language's® products are developed through a step-by-step process geared to recognition, pronunciation and writing of letters—the building blocks of any language, based on the user's local references and native tongue.

Key elements of the Quick-n-EZ Language's® learning experience include:

- Quick-n-EZ Language® incorporates commonly recognizable images from the user's native (local) language and uses the sounds in that native language to increase recognition and proper pronunciation of foreign language terms to engage the user in the process and maximize the retention potential of a foreign language.
- Quick-n-EZ's Language® innovative website is a great tool for users of all ages to successfully learn new languages. It is packed with numerous applications to help the learner master a new language, including voice recording capability so the user can compare their pronunciation to the correct sounds on the website. The website also features unique
